Content of Website

The content is the soul for the website, users rely heavily on the information available which necessitates appropriate coverage of the content.

Scope of Content

– Primary Content:

- Original content that is sought by the target user

– Secondary Content :

- Generated from assortment /packaging of primary content to suit specific groups

– Tertiary Content :

- Information about the primary and secondary content

Quality of Content

Effective reach and usage of a website is ensured through their essential character of how the content is compiled, structured and packaged

Quality rests on its three pillars of

Authenticity, Currency and Accuracy

Quality of Content

- Content Packaging with Citizen Orientation
  - Content aimed at audience from diverse backgrounds
- Content Authenticity, Accuracy and Currency : To ensure quality of content various policies for content creation, review and archival must be formulated
  - Content Creation, Moderation & Approval Policy (CMAP)
  - Content Review Policy (CRP)
  - Content Archival Policy (CAP)
- Standard/ Terminology and placement of terms
  - Content presented by use of standard content terminology, positioning and framework
- Simple language free from errors

Content Management

- The web content is entirely different from that of the print and audio-visual media and needs special care for drafting. The web content can serve multiple purposes and can be both brief as well as detailed. The Website content should be developed to enable maximum public interface and it should facilitate the citizen of the state in getting information about various schemes, procedure, policies and rules & regulation of the Government.
- Nodal Officer (IT) will be responsible for overall supervision to ensure that authentic, correct and updated information is published on the website.

Content Lifecycle – Before Going Live

Content Creator

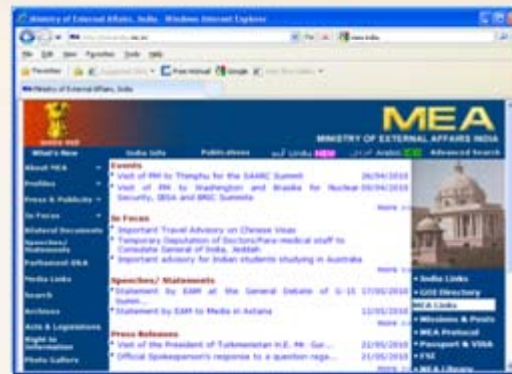

Content Moderator

Content Approver

Content Contribution,
Moderation, and
Approval Policy
(CMAP)

Content Management

- For the content development, the site maps for navigation of the site is the first and foremost requirement and should be prepared in the first place.
- All department websites should have a simplified mechanism for the publication of content on websites allowing content creators to create, edit and update information without requiring technical knowledge /skills required by web application developers such as programming and markup languages.

Levels : Mandatory & Advisory

- ‘MUST’ :
  - Objectively tested requirements which are Mandatory
- ‘SHOULD’ :
  - Recommended practices that are significant
- ‘MAY’ :
  - Voluntary practices which may be adopted if deemed suitable
- Mandatory Guidelines have become basis for
- STQC Website Certification Level 1

- It is hoped that these guidelines shall facilitate improvement in existing websites and form the
- foundation Rajasthan Government websites to become
- Usable ,User-Centric, Up-to-Date.

History

It is not on the record as how the name of Bhilwara was ascribed to the which now forms the district Bhilwara. Tradition has it that it came to be known as Bhilwara because it was mostly inhabited by Bhils in old days. These Bhils were eventually driven away towards the hilly tracts and interior places of less importance by the ancestors of the peasant settlers. Ironically enough, now very few Bhils live in this area. Another version recounts that the present Bhilwara city had a mint where coins known as 'BHILADI' were minted and from this denomination was derived the name of the district. Over the years it has emerged out as the TEXTILE CITY of Rajasthan. Now a days, Bhilwara is better known as the textile city in the country.

Location

The district Bhilwara is situated between 25°.00' to 27°.50' North Latitude and 74°.03' to 75°.25' East longitude. It is bounded in the north by Ajmer District, in the north-west, west and south west by Udaipur and Rajasamand district. In the south and south south-east by Chittorgarh district. In the east and north east by Bundi and Tonk districts. The total length of the district from west to east is 144 km. while the breadth from North to south is 104 km approximately.

Climate

The District Bhilwara has a hot dry summer and bracing cold winter. The cold season is from December to February and is followed by hot summers from March to the last week of June. The south west monsoon season which follows, last till about mid September. The period from mid September to about the end of November constitutes the post monsoon season.

General

Bhilwara is the industrial town. It is famous country wide for the textiles industry. It is well connected with roads, rail.
